Climate Related Risk and ESG in Valuation - sponsored by CoreLogic

 9:30 AM - 10:30 AM, Jun 17

Climate Related Risk – An emerging opportunity for the valuation profession, Gary Garner, Patricia Kuczynska

Climate-related risk reporting is a hot topic and an emerging area for valuers. This session covers NZ climate risk legislation, physical risks of climate change and impact on agriculture, insurance and lending services, transition risks and energy efficiency. The opportunity for valuers will also be discussed.

International Emerging Trends – ESG in Valuation, Alexander Aronsohn IVSC

Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) are criteria increasingly used to assess the impact of the environmental, social and ethical practices of companies on their operations, financial performance and attractiveness to investors. This session provides an overview of ESG and how it relates to valuation, the use of ESG in valuation globally and how ESG can be quantified within valuations of real estate assets.
